

iBizOnCall Offer

We know how much you love it, you saw it born, give its first steps in to the market, it gave you rewarding surprises you weren't expecting, and now its so grown up you can no longer manage it yourself, but you don't want to leave it nor give it away to anyone just like that.

Of course we mean your business! in iBizOnCall we are concerned about our customers success that's why we offer iBizOnCall support.

If you have hundreds or even thousands of customer requesting you to provide support for them 24/7 on all your different Dedicated Server Solutions platforms, then you already understand that is pretty hard to do by yourself.

iBizOnCall is more than just an offer is a program ran by experts of the internet and Dedicated Server Market that are available 24/7 ready to answer to all your customers inquiries any time of the day, any day of the year.

We keep ourselves constantly trained in the rapid advances on the internet and networking field as long as it's many different technologies that comes with them, so that we are able to answer to our customers in an accurate and professional way.

And that's not all, iBizOnCall it's available to you currently in 2 different languages (English and Spanish) and we are working hard on building different teams that speak different languages, because we understand that your customers don't want to feel they are talking to a total stranger to their problem or their culture.

We have the ability to respond to your customer with an understandable, crystal clear language (their language) and even use their slang in order to make ourselves even clearer to them.

We respond to them immediately so that they know and feel we care about their business and we are working hard to solve their issue.

Getting this solution from employees yourself would cost up to $6000 dollars a month at minimum, because hiring professionals to work 8 hours a day its not any cheap, and the fact that you have to somehow respond to them 24/7, in this $6000 dollars scenario we are considering 2 technicians per shift in 3 different shifts ( $3 * 8 = 24$  and  $2 * 3 = 6$ )

This quote has being built considering you would only have to pay $250 dollars a week to each one of them, but it could be more than that.

Now imagine you could get this services at 1/12th the price, NO, we are not joking! only 1/12th the price. Yes, only $500 for the full month, that's what you had to pay for two technicians a week only covering 8 hours a day, do the math and you'll see by yourself.

You would get 24/7 support in 2 different languages for all your clients, and you would have more than just 6 technicians available you would have a whole building working on your cases 24/7.

iBizOnCall is known for helping their customers to succeed and increase their income as much as the profitability of their solutions, giving them time to focus in other things like sales, expansion, or anything they could imagine that's not even related to work!

Wouldn't that be great? just do the math and stop spending nights with no sleep or stop wasting money and precious time and let the expert leading company in the market do the job for you.

So that you can implement other offers on your business, make your business more profitable or ideally just lay back as the rest of the world works to make your money.
